PRES. G. A. HANSON OFC. OFC. RETURNS FROM HONOLULU

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hanson and Miss Schumacher, who returned on Wednesday from Honolulu, where they had accompanied Miss Edith Hanson when she left last month for two years' social service work on the Islands, had a most interesting trip both by land and sea. Their voyage over from San Francisco to Honolulu was made in seven days, while the return trip took six. Their boat was of the Matson Steamship line, and comfortable in every respect.

"The humidity of the climate struck us forcibly," said Mr. Hanson, in talking to a News correspondent today. "The thermometer ranged from 80 to 85 degrees while we were there, and it rained more or less every day. The people don't pay much attention to it, except by name, they call it 'liquid sunshine,' as the rain seems to come from a clear sky."

"What appealed to me very much was the gorgeous vegetation, and the brilliant greens and reds of the Banyan trees. With the constant rain, there is no dust, and everything is always fresh and clean. Flowers are lovely, though they have great difficulty in growing roses, as the Japanese moth attacks the blossom. To some extent they have stopped the ravages by having rows of electric lights over the bushes, which, when turned on at night, attract the moths, who don't seem to return to the flowers in the daytime."

"We visited the volcano at Hilo, and stood on the edge of the crater looking down into the depths of the earth. Fire came up to within 80 feet of the top, and though we were safe, the soles of my shoes were scorched where I stood, and one could feel the heat coming up thru cracks around the edge."

"Our trip through the sugar cane plantations and sugar mills was most interesting. It takes 18 months to raise a crop, and the canes are replanted every three years. The leaves of the cane have a sharp, sword-like edge, which is turned off before the men start to harvest the cane. This burning process, while destroying the leaves, does not seem to injure the cane at all. Tracks run all through the plantation, carrying the harvested product from the plantation to the mills, which run all the time. The sugar is only made into the brown product; it is then shipped to San Francisco to be refined. On the ship we came home on there were 96,000 sacks of sugar being sent to the San Francisco refineries."

"We also spent some time at the pineapple factories, and watched with interest the packing process. The pineapples were very good, but we noticed very little difference in the flavor of the bananas, although people had told us that we would not recognize them as the same fruit if we could eat them ripened naturally, instead of being picked green and allowed to ripen en route."

MOST HEADLIGHTS WITHIN THE LAW

Out of nearly 1,000 motorists who had their automobile lights inspected along the county highways this week by county Traffic Officer Jay Boone, and his men, only eight were arrested for being conspicuous violators of the state's headlight laws, Officer Boone said yesterday.

"Few, indeed, are the motorists in San Bernardino county who disregard the state laws," Mr. Boone declared. "We stopped nearly 1,000 cars on the highways on several nights this week. Many motorists' lights needed adjustment, but only eight were arrested for failing to have lenses in the lights."

The headlight inspection campaign now being conducted in San Bernardino county on all highways is a part of the state-wide fight against the motorist with blinding lights on his car, instituted by Charles J. Chu, chief of the California Motor Vehicle Bureau.

The result of the campaign is satisfying, Traffic Officer Boone said. "It is not our aim to arrest motorists who make an effort to comply with the laws."

The headlight inspection campaign is conducted by all members of the county traffic squad. The officers select a sharp corner on the highways where cars with faulty lights are halted.

CO. EXHIBIT TAKES PRIZE AT THE FAIR

San Bernardino county display at the Riverside fair won third place in the awards for county displays. The San Bernardino county people were more than happy to have been accorded this honor, as the display was put in under a handicap this year.

The Farm Bureau did not feel equal to the handling of the task alone and agreed to furnish the material, when the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce agreed to build the display if the products were furnished. The work was done by Secretary R. H. Mack and his assistant, Lyman Rich, with Martin Green in charge of construction. The competition was very stiff.

Special award was given the National Orange Show display which is novel and quite different from anything ever shown before. It attracts a great amount of attention.

First place for county display went to Fresno County, the splendid display being built by P. W. Rasmussen, who has for several years put up the display both at the Riverside fair and at the National Orange Show.

Mr. Rasmussen promised the officials of the National Orange show that he will be at the show again next February with a more elaborate display than ever, if that is possible. In addition to his citrus showing at the coming Orange Show, Mr. Rasmussen is planning to make a large display of dried fruits and other products from Fresno county in the industrial section of the show. This will be a new departure.

Kings county received second place at the Riverside fair, the display being a fine one. It was in charge of Frank C. Russell, former Riverside newspaper man and former secretary of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce. Los Angeles and Orange counties failed to place in the prize winners.

TO IMPROVE ARROWHEAD HOSPITAL

Appropriations of $12,000 for road improvements and completion of the new bath house at Arrowhead Hospital was received from Washington yesterday by Captain R. L. Allen, officer in charge of the hospital, who announced the continuance of the enlargement and building program at Arrowhead delayed several weeks ago.

San Bernardino building and trades craftsmen will be employed for the construction work on the new bath house at the hospital, Captain Allen said. Work will begin with the arrival of Superintendent of Construction Roberts at Arrowhead in a day or two, and continue until the bath house, one of the largest units of the extension program, is completed.

The total cost of the new bath house will be more than $15,000. Preliminary construction work was halted when funds appropriated for the work expired.

School Notes

The hike scheduled for to-morrow by the teachers' hiking club is to Barrett's canyon, and the party will leave on the 7:28 car from the P.E. Junction. They will take their lunch and return in the late afternoon. Anyone wishing to join the party is cordially invited to do so.

We are most fortunate in being able to announce that there will be an open class in Current Events for teachers and any others who wish to attend, led by Mr. W. W. Mather of Chaffey faculty. Those who know Mr. Mather, and have had the pleasure of hearing him speak know that this means a most interesting session. The time and day will be announced later.

The registrations at Night School are still small, only three classes being scheduled for Upland. Commercial law, Lamps and Basketry, and Americanization will be the courses.

A very entertaining Assembly was given last Monday by the pupils of the Eighth grade. As there are two divisions of this grade they will have the program again next Monday. The school extends a very cordial invitation to all parents and friends of the children to attend these assembly meetings, which are given every Monday at one o'clock, lasting half an hour.

The new members of the teaching faculty of the grammar schools were the complimented guests last Thursday at the P. T. A. meeting, when they were all welcomed to the school and city by different representatives of the club and societies of the locality. The P. T. A. meeting was interesting, and a large number of people were present.

NEWS NOTES AT THE COUNTY SEAT

The Lions Club gave a Luncheon Thursday afternoon at which Governor Stephens spoke. Supervisors Cheney, of Colton, and Kendall, of San Bernardino, attended the luncheon and heard the Governor speak.

Supervisors Cheney, Grier, Kendall and Crain were the Supervisors from San Bernardino who attended the gathering of Supervisors from Southern California. While there they took part in the formation of the Southern California County Supervisors Association. They feel that the interest of the Southern California Counties can be better looked after by an organization devoted to their special interests.

There is a state-wide organization but its interests are so varied that it cannot devote its power to any special section. This new organization hopes to place the particular needs of the southern counties before the legislation in such a forceful way that they will be taken care of. There are many other features that they can act upon as a unit and accomplish their purposes.

Chairman of the Riverside Board of Supervisors was elected President of the new organization. Supervisors Crain, Cheney and Kendall attended the luncheon given to the 40 Supervisors that attended the meeting, after which they were the guests of the Riverside Supervisors at the Riverside Fair. At least one of the Supervisors from San Bernardino admitted liking the horse races. His name I am not permitted to give.

Thursday morning Supervisor Cheney, of Colton, inspected the improvements that are being made at the County Hospital. A new gas heating plant is being installed in order that the hospital may have a supply of hot water and the big boilers shut down during the hot weather. A water softener is being installed to do away with scale in the boilers and also a big galvanized tank for a reserve water supply.

Tuesday afternoon Supervisor Cheney, accompanied by Supervisor Crain and County Surveyor Ham, made an inspection of Camp Cajon to arrange for flood-water protection.

The case of Needham vs. the G. & W. Stage line was to have been tried before a jury in Department No. 2 of the Superior Court. The talesmen had been called and were ready for jury duty. The parties not being ready for trial the case was postponed until some time in January and the costs of the case assessed to the parties concerned.

Superior Court No. 1 was busy Thursday morning hearing the case of a carpenter mechanic who had failed to keep up the payments on his little home. Just another of life's little tragedies.

Mental Derelict

Clarence Albert Richardson, the young San Bernardino boy who was arrested Wednesday with a group of young fellows that were concerned in the robbing of many service stations, how many it is not known, is the son of a prominent business man of San Bernardino, a large real estate holder. He was brought up in a home of refinement and the best of home influences and given every chance to make good. It is alleged that from early boyhood he has shown a great tendency to juvenile delinquency. He had a bad record beginning with the year 1917, when he was about 16. He was given a sentence of 14 months in the Ingle Reform School. Nothing more of a criminal nature is heard from him. Perhaps this is a case of good riddance of bad rubbish. The owner thinks it poor policy to send good money after bad. A great many auto owners are thinking that way since the high price of gas.

The Boston police officer has taken Geo. W. Chambers on the way to Boston to face a charge of embezzlement from his employers there. Chambers was arrested in this county on the request of the police department of Boston.

Billie Berg, the 15-year-old boy arrested in Needles and held for investigation on account of the loot found on him for which he could not account, was taken by an officer from the Chicago police department Tuesday and returned to Chicago. He is known to have at least two aliases, Wm. Scharnowski and John Novak. He is believed to have been concerned with a gang that robbed the Pace residence in Chicago of thousands in jewelry.

Those who attended the Episcopal Club dinner in Los Angeles from St. Mark's Parish yesterday evening were the Rector, Dr. Foster, Duncan Crooks, Dr. A. J. Colgan, R. G. Batchelder and Robert Batchelder. They made the journey both ways by motor. The dinner was attended by over four hundred men.

He is considered, it is alleged, by the officers as a mental derelict, an unfit character to be at large. His looks are very deceptive, they do not indicate a criminal. He is a strapping big boyish looking fellow with an open countenance, apparently without guile. It is reported

T. R. WOODBRIDGE IS BACK FROM TRIP TO OWENS LAKE

T. R. Woodbridge has just returned from a trip to Owens Lake and reports some rare experiences while there. In a letter to Mayor Johnson while there Mr. Woodbridge describes conditions in that section of the country.

A portion of the letter follows: "I am here at an altitude of 9000 feet and have a wonderful view of Owens Lake and of the Mount Whitney flock of Sierras which are reflected so clearly five miles distant in Owens Lake. I drove here with my brother in my Dodge, with no stops except for meals, in 14 hours of continuous driving. Of this, 75 miles were paved, 179 rather bum, crooked sandy desert roads, making 15 to 20 miles an hour satisfactory going, and the last eight miles were in the bed of a creek or over boulders on grades from 10 to 26 per cent. Two miles of this was a steady grind in the sand on 18 to 20 per cent grades. Hit a 4 to 5 mile gait and didn't boil her once. This was partly due to taking the drive from ten to twelve at night. During the day it takes about a gallon of water to carry the car through. I consider this trip of 263 miles the equivalent of about 520 miles on paved roads. In all my 18 years of auto driving, I have never driven over such a road, or such persistently heavy grades as these last eight miles. It is a five-hour trip by team."

For two or three days we have seen the clouds pile up and spill over the Sierras from the west, but your storms have not crossed the mountains, and we have had sunny weather with the thermometer running between 47 and 77 degrees.

The Owens Valley already shows the result of its water being taken away by Los Angeles. It has the appearance of a fading-away country as far as agriculture goes. Owens Lake is drying up and experts say it will be totally dry in 3 or 4 years. Already the soda and potash works here are finding difficulties getting the proper solution in the Lake. Their pipelines are extending farther and farther from the works and towards the center of the lake. The altitude of the Lake is 3600 ft. I am therefore 9000 ft. or an average grade of 13 per cent for the 8 miles. I have driven over some 30 miles of this valley road north of the lake, and don't advise them for pleasure only.

There seems to be a number of mines delivering their ore to the valley railroad and some of the very old mining districts, as this one and the mines at Darwin are quite busy and profitable.

Give my kindest regards to all in the Chamber of Commerce, including "Bill."

Sincerely yours,
T. R. WOODBRIDGE

that mentally he is a fit subject for the Juvenile Court.

Don't Want His Automobile
Chief Traffic Officers are having a hard time finding the owner of an automobile that he picked up on the road the other day near San Bernardino. He looked up the owner by the license number and wrote the name as H. L. Scott, in Los Angeles. The letter was returned to him. Perhaps this is a case of good riddance of bad rubbish. The owner thinks it poor policy to send good money after bad. A great many auto owners are thinking that way since the high price of gas.

The Boston police officer has taken Geo. W. Chambers on the way to Boston to face a charge of embezzlement from his employers there. Chambers was arrested in this county on the request of the police department of Boston.

Billie Berg, the 15-year-old boy arrested in Needles and held for investigation on account of the loot found on him for which he could not account, was taken by an officer from the Chicago police department Tuesday and returned to Chicago. He is known to have at least two aliases, Wm. Scharnowski and John Novak. He is believed to have been concerned with a gang that robbed the Pace residence in Chicago of thousands in jewelry.

Those who attended the Episcopal Club dinner in Los Angeles from St. Mark's Parish yesterday evening were the Rector, Dr. Foster, Duncan Crooks, Dr. A. J. Colgan, R. G. Batchelder and Robert Batchelder. They made the journey both ways by motor. The dinner was attended by over four hundred men.

FONTANA FARMS TO FEED 25,000 HOGS

When the facilities planned by the Fontana Farms company for the handling of the Los Angeles city garbage are completed it will be feeding approximately 25,000 hogs.

At the present time between 8000 and 9000 hogs are being fed at two camps, Wade station and Camp No. 1. Workmen are now engaged in erecting facilities at the third camp, which is to be located at Declez, which will be capable of being indefinitely expanded for handling a larger number of hogs. This will be closer to the railroad and with new and modern facilities will make the handling of garbage and feeding of the hogs a much cheaper and easier proposition.

The primary object of using the garbage and feeding so large a number of hogs is dual: first, it is the securing of large quantities of fertilizer for use on the thousands of acres controlled by the Fontana company. Secondly, of course, is the element of profit from the fattening and sale of the hogs themselves. When the facilities are completed it will probably be the largest hog farm in the country.

The camps are maintained at a considerable distance from any residence section in order that they may not in any way be a nuisance to the public. Sanitary conditions prevail in the camps, approved methods for the handling of the garbage being used. The new camp now being constructed at Declez is in the center of a thousand-acre tract, that removes it a considerable distance from the property of others.

The garbage is shipped out in tank cars nightly from Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific and reaches the feeding pens in a comparatively fresh condition. Any surplus received until the required number of hogs is secured is being treated and turned directly into fertilizer.

The assembling of 25,000 hogs is a big undertaking. The number is being increased as rapidly as the hogs can be secured, but it will be several months before the number required to use all the garbage will be at the farm.

"THE HELL DIGGERS" COLONIAL TONIGHT

"The Hell Diggers" will be shown to-night and to-morrow night at the Colonial Theatre, a picture of the giant gold diggers in California. Wallace Reid plays the role of an engineer on one of the big floating machines, and is supported by an excellent cast. Lois Wilson taking the part of the heroine. The story is alive with excitement of a whole some sort, and this is the first time, as far as can be learned, that the enormous gold dredges used in Northern California gold fields have been used in pictures. With this comes a comedy and the "Gumps."

Sunday afternoon and evening program is a play, "Land of Hope," in which Alice Brady takes the chief part. It is a stirring picture of two immigrants who come here from Europe expecting to find the United States a land of hope and gold. The picture shows you the melting pot of New York, and all the films are absolutely true in atmosphere.

Monday is the first showing of "The Mystery Road," the scene being laid in Southern France. The picture is from a story written by Phillips Oppenheim and deals with an Englishman whose follies bring him along the mystery road of life. David Powell takes the leading part, and the picture is a Paramount one.

J. B. DRAPER RETURNS SUNDAY

J. B. Draper is expected home next Sunday from a three weeks' visit to different Eastern points. He left Ontario for New York, going from there to Des Moines, Iowa, where he attended the National Selected Mortician Convention. He was also a representative at the National Funeral Directors' Convention held this week at San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Draper leaves San Antonio tonight, and returns home with many helpful ideas gained through meeting some of the best morticians in the country.

Just as the chilly winds of winter were about to do it, a thrifty farmer's wife has placed a sign at her gate. "Chickens dressed while you wait."

Mrs. J. S. Gundy has as her guest at her home on West 8th street, Miss Olive Van Fleet of Los Angeles.

P. E. MAY DROP SAN ANTONIO LINE

If the Pacific Electric railroad follows the advice of the engineers of the State Railroad Commission, the trolley line running from Twenty-fourth street, Upland, to San Antonio on Mountain avenue, will be abandoned.

For some time the P. E. has been running behind financially each year and recently asked the commission to make a survey of their lines and business and to offer suggestions as to how to put the big system on a paying basis.

The jitney busses and privately owned automobiles seem to have been the main cause of the troubles of the Pacific Electric, according to the report of the Commission engineers.

In numerous cities conferences with city officials are to be held by way of solving the problem, while in other instances abandonment of lines are believed advisable because of a lack of business. One man street cars are suggested in several towns.

Regarding the line over San Antonio Heights, abandonment is suggested without conference or further discussion and as the Pacific Electric has adopted the idea of following out suggestions made by the Commission the line over the hill to San Antonio Park will soon be a thing of the past.

NARROWLY ESCAPE AS BULLETS FLY

Alex Thorburn, prominent orange grower, and Mrs. Alfred Oakley are congratulating themselves that they still have perfectly good noses, notwithstanding their unpleasant experience of Monday morning. While they were conversing a bullet whizzed between them, missing Mrs. Oakley by not much more than an inch, and buried itself ker-plunk in a flower pot in the next yard.

An investigation disclosed the fact that no one was intentionally taking pot shots at these prominent Claremont citizens but that the shooting was going on in a neighboring yard. Miss L. M. Loring, of 133 West Twelfth street, was the fair marksman, or markswoman.

The maiden lady was doing a little target shooting in her backyard, ostensibly with the purpose of being able to pot burglars or other marauders. Evidently her aim was a little wild at times, as it was one of the bullets from her twenty-two calibre rifle that gave Mr. Thorburn and Mrs. Oakley the fright of their lives and furthermore testifies to the fact that the best flower pots in the city of Claremont.

IN THE SHADOW

The funeral services of William Rogers took place from Draper's Ontario Chapel this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Rogers was a former resident of Cucamonga, but for the past few years has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Johnston, of San Dimas, at whose home he died. Mr. Rogers was past 80 years of age, and leaves a widow, and one son in Los Angeles, besides his married daughter at San Dimas.

TO IMPROVE ROAD WITHOUT DELAY

The Los Angeles county supervisors have decided on improving the High line road to the new San Dimas dam at once and to wait until the work on the dam is finished before improving the lower road. It is apparent that while the heavy hauling for the dam is being done over the lower road that it would be impractical to start improving it.

The new road will run from the Foothill Boulevard over the old Wheeler-La Verne road north to the corner of the Edgemont ranch, from which point the new road work will start. It will go directly west to the bluff of the canyon and will wind down the bluff in a north-westerly direction until it strikes the dam. The grade will not be over 8 per cent at any place. By finishing the new road before the winter rains come it will be possible to keep the work going on the dam all winter, as the hauling of cement and other material can be done on it when the lower road is impassable owing to the canyon water.

NEW CHAFFEY ORGAN PRESENTED TO THE DISTRICT

The first public organ recital at Chaffey Auditorium Monday evening brought conclusively before those who heard the wonderful instrument that Chaffey district now has one of the finest instruments of its sort in Southern California.

S. E. Blakeslee, head of the music department of Chaffey, gave the first recital and in the program presented ably exhibited the many varied accomplishments possessed by the organ.

President Edw. C. Harwood of the Board of Trustees in presenting the organ said:

"In presenting this organ tonight, in the first public recital, it seems fitting to say a few words about its history. The speaking of these words has devolved upon me."

"It is no small occasion to be listening for the first time to what we believe is the finest organ in any high school in America, in a community which is not large as communities go the country over nor rich in wealth as communities go the country over."

"It is fitting that we should remember tonight the one who first had as an ideal and those of us who had as an ideal this organ. We know back of every accomplishment there is an ideal and those of us who have been here a number of years remember Mrs. Mary LeDuc Chapin who was the first head of our music department. At the beginning of the war she met with an accident in Europe and returned to this country before she had completely recovered, so great was her devotion to her work here. I remember a time when Mrs. Chapin fell on the campus and was injured. The next day she rode in a truck to Whittier to a football game and there led the band. After the game was over, she returned in the truck. When she reached home, she went to a physician and found that a rib was broken. I am speaking of this because of her devotion."

"Mrs. Chapin thought first of an organ for this school and cherished the idea during her work here. When at the close of her work, she failed in health because she gave so much of her strength to the school, she left in her will for a pipe organ a part of her estate. The estate has never been liquidated and we have never received the money but we should cherish her service and her ideals."

"I think I am safe in saying one of the things which had the greatest weight with the Board in the purchase of this organ was the confidence and admiration which they have come to feel for the present head of the music department. Under Mr. Blakeslee's leadership, the department has grown; it has made brilliant achievements in many lines and now stands out as one of the greatest departments in the school; it adds to the laurels of the school and spreads benefits throughout the community. And so, we ought to feel that the procuring of this organ is a tribute to Mr. Blakeslee and to the school."

"And we, as a Board, would like to have you find in this organ a symbol of the finer things of life, the things we should cherish, which have not to do with either food or raiment. It is your organ; it is the organ you have thought of securing as a reality. Our hope is that it will be a source of continual enjoyment, usefulness and inspiration."

PASS RESOLUTIONS
At the W. C. T. U. County Executive, held in Upland, California, Friday, October 7th, 1921, the following resolution was passed:
Whereas, Roscoe Arbuckle in a intoxicated condition, in the city of San Francisco, committed a deed transgressing the laws of God and man,
Whereas, the law extended leniency to him, owing to his "distinguished" (?) personage; therefore,
Resolved, that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of San Bernardino County, in executive session assembled, do most emphatically denounce the awful crime committed, and
Resolved, that we deplore the fact, that in this particular case the principles of our government have been subverted, and partially substituted for "Equality before the Law;" furthermore, be it
Resolved, that we urge a speedy justice to all violators of moral laws, to be tried on the merits of the case, and the evidence produced, and not on poetical quotations.

According to a communication from Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, an essay contest on the single tax amendment which had been arranged for boys and girls of the grammar and high schools throughout the state, will not be allowed by the state school laws, which provide that no cooperation in contests of a political nature can be given by school teachers or school boards. The penalty is the withholding of state school funds. Notice of the contest came through a communication brought to one of the state high schools under the head, "Volunteers Wanted for the Single Tax Amendment." Mrs. Grace C. Stanley, county superintendent of schools, received the communication from Mr. Wood and the order is to be observed in this county in accordance with section 1672 of the Political Code.

The American people have about $40,000,000 invested in the new battleship Washington, just launched at Camden. This investment was made to protect the lives and property of the people who furnish the money to pay battleship bills. It could not be spent to better purpose if other nations continue to build big battleships. But it could be better spent in the ways of peace under an international agreement for disarmament.

Great Britain, Japan and the United States have the greatest naval programs planned at the present. The British navy's fighting ships are counted at 1,588,442 tons, those of the United States at 779,173 tons, and of Japan at 340,596 tons. The United States has new ships planned that will total 842,109 tons, Japan 328,460 tons and Great Britain 76,890 tons. If these programs are carried out Great Britain will have 1,665,332 tons, the United States, 1,621,282 tons, and Japan, 669,056 tons. Thus the strength of the American navy will be almost as great as that of the British navy, ship for ship and ton for ton.

France is maintaining 800,000 soldiers under arms, Japan, 600,000; Great Britain, 300,000; Italy, 300,000, and the United States, 150,000. Thus it will be seen that this country has put the army on a peace-time footing but its naval program is ambitious. There is considerable doubt about the disarmament conference being able to curtail the programs and the effect of such an agreement as the diplomats reach may not be felt by the people for some time; but if it means less spent for war preparation something will have been accomplished.

Praises the Y. M. C. A.
The Hon. V. S. Srinivasa Sastry, an Indian official, gives this testimony: "You have done me the honor to ask me to state what I think of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in India. It is beyond praise. I do not pretend to know all about it, but what I have seen of it fills me with admiration and gratitude. The association neglects no promising field of service. The magnitude and many-sidedness of its operations are a wonder to me, and I have sometimes felt the nonofficial organizations in India would gain in persistence and boldness of conception by a study of the aims, methods and ideals of the great movement known throughout the world by the letters 'Y. M. C. A.'"—Chicago Post.

Lakes for Tourists.

Fresh-air lakes are to be found in great numbers and of all sizes along the coast of Alaska, says the American Forestry Magazine. The Chugach forest has its full share, two of which are typical and easily accessible to the tourist, being Eyak lake, near Cordova, along the south shore of which runs the Copper river and Northwestern railroad, and Kenai lake, which is in the heart of the moose range some twenty miles north of Seward and is reached by the government railroad skirting one shore.

CUCAMONGA

Cucamonga has a building epidemic, so watch her grow as she never has before. A few improvements are mentioned this week, but watch for the next issue. You will be surprised.

*Turner avenue, between the State Highway and the Santa Fe tracks, is nearly completed and will be a beautiful thoroughfare when finished.

The enrollment of scholars at the various schools here has greatly increased this year. On Monday alone 65 new scholars were added to the list at the Cucamonga school, making a total of 240 scholars. Central School's enrollment is 175 and Alta Loma school has 89 enrolled.

A $15,000 school house is being constructed at Guasti.

ETIWANDA

One of the most successful social affairs of the year was given Friday evening when members of the Ladies' Aid Society held a reception in honor of Mrs. Frederick E. Rader, of Matanuska, Alaska. Mrs. George E. Utman and her assistants had decorated the rooms beautifully with a profusion of ferns and flowers. After the guests had arrived they were paired off in a clever game and were given a list of questions on which each pair worked together. During the contest every known human relationship was figured out. Mrs. John Scott announced the answers. Curtis Smith entertained the younger set for half an hour with a trick he had learned while away camping this summer, after which the crowd went into the audience room of the church for a program. Music by the orchestra, a solo and encore from Ned Francis and a flute solo by Berthold Dugdale preceded Mrs. Rader, who read a story she had written for publication in a Western magazine. It was a cleverly written sketch of Alaska life and was thoroughly enjoyed by the listeners. The young people's chorus sang, and Mercedes Frost whistled and responded to an encore. The refreshment committee had been busy during the program and were ready at its close with punch and delicious home made cakes which were served generously. As the hour had grown quite late, the guests dispersed soon afterward declaring they had had one of the best times in recent history. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jones, of Ontario, were guests from out of town.

On Saturday evening the Parent Teacher Association held the first of a series of evening social gatherings planned for the year. The men were especially invited to be present and formed a large percentage of the crowd. Mrs. John Frost, President of the P. T. A., called to order at eight o'clock and introduced Miss Irene Scott, who played a piano solo and responded to an encore, and Mrs. Frederick E. Rader, who spoke on the work that is being done by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Alaska. Her husband is in charge of the work in the Matanuska Valley, where Mrs. Rader has been the past few years, but she was able to give a very clear idea of the work being accomplished at all the other stations as well. Mrs. Fred Gilbert, Mrs. O. H. Price, Mrs. Niel Hickox, Mrs. John Frost and Mrs. A. C. Smith served punch and cake at the close of the evening.

Madames George F. Johnston, Glen Shepherd and Walter Barnes were hostesses Thursday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Aid Society of Etiwanda. An unusually large turnout greeted the President, Mrs. J. D. Orendorff, when she called the meeting to order. Plans for the bazaar to be given in the first week in December were discussed, some changes being made in the committees previously appointed. The Missionary Committee of the society was given Mrs. Lillian Cour for a chairman, as the former chairman, Mrs. John Scott, is devoting so much time to Sunday School work. Mrs. Rader, who was present, told in a few words how glad she was to be back with the old friends. Dainty refreshments served at the close of the meeting consisted of tea and cakes.

Rally Day was observed Sunday by the Etiwanda Sunday School. Although there was a large turnout there had been no effort to get out any except members on the first day of a campaign for a larger Sunday School. A simple program had been arranged by superintendent. Mrs. Scott, during which each class and all of the officers made pledges for more earnest work the coming year.

On Tuesday evening friends of Mr. A. A. Werner gathered at the Werner home for the annual birthday dinner. Mr. Werner has at last reached the age where is not surprised although he is not let in on any of the plans made previous to the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jones, of Ontario, and Mrs. F. E. Rader, of Matanuska, Alaska, joined the Werner, Donnelly and Smith families at this year's celebration. Roses and orange blossoms filled the air with sweet perfume, the children of the party filled the air (also) with various sounds throughout the evening and the twenty-one members of the party were all and then some with a wonderful dinner that began with chicken 'n everything and continued on to a climax of ice cream and two birthday cakes.

On Monday evening a number of automobile parties went to Chaffey Auditorium and listened to the new pipe organ. Professor Alakoske gave a varied and very excellent program and everyone from here was glad to have been in the audience.

Wednesday at one o'clock the members of the Ladies' Missionary Society gave the annual luncheon at the church. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and a very excellent menu was served. Nearly all of the Ladies of the Colony attend the annual luncheon and an unusually large number got out this year as Mrs. F. E. Rader was to be the speaker of the afternoon. No charge is made for the luncheon, but an offering is taken which covers the pledges made each year for home and foreign missions. The amount received Wednesday was sufficient for the needs of the society. Mrs. Rader spoke on the mission work now being carried on in Alaska. She had secured a splendid map through the courtesy of the County Superintendent's office, and she carried her listeners with her to the country in which she is so deeply interested. Mrs. Rader is Territorial Chairman for Library and Educational work of the Federated Clubs in the North and made, probably, the most enjoyable talk ever given the missionary society of this place.

Miss Reynolds was dropped from the Etiwanda teaching force on Friday by recommendation of the county superintendent whose inspection of the work here had been unfavorable. Miss Reynolds had not secured a certificate to teach in this county, having been hired pending her procuring a certificate from another county, which was to be accepted here. We understand that through a lawyer she is suing the local school board for not fulfilling their contract. While every one feels that nothing can come of such a move, it is nevertheless creating considerable interest in the Colony. Mrs. Peters, of Ontario, is teaching the Intermediate this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and family, Mrs. F. E. Rader and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Westphal and the twins were dinner guests Sunday at the J. T. Morris home in Ontario.

Wesley Cole, of Upland, visited the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society here Sunday evening. He is attending the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Miss Katherine Poyntz and little Harold McNurlin have been under the care of Dr. Webber for the past week. Both are better.

Betty and Gloria Foss spent Tuesday with Mrs. Austin while Mr. and Mrs. Foss shopped in Los Angeles.

Advance With the Years.
To find life easy you must develop right habits that make life automatic. Men who develop right attitudes toward toll soon become unconscious adepts in things burdensome to others. There's real joy in being able to surpass those who would be your competitors. After all it's just a matter of being on the job.

The normal man dreads the day when he will not be rated at his best. It is foolish to imagine that you will never grow old. That's part of nature. The way to enter the older stage without embarrassment is to rise with the business to where you won't have to do the physical tasks that require young shoulders. Let youth hustle the merchandise, you rise to the point of telling them where to put it—Grit.

American Poisonous Snakes.
There are four poisonous groups of snakes within the boundaries of the United States. These are: "the moccasin, rattler, copperhead and haterquin. All are easily distinguished by their large, broad heads, deep-set black eyes, small neck, stout bulky body and short tail. The most dangerous of these perhaps is the moccasin, for it usually rests on branches of low trees and shrubs and strikes at a passing victim. However, it will refrain from striking unless irritated and will give battle only when teased or frightened.

Hot Water Bottle for Cold Feet

Cold feet at night—br-r-r! Is there anything makes a person feel more miserable? Cold feet are caused by slow blood circulation, which allows the extremities of the body to get cold easily. When a person lies down, if there isn't the force to pump the blood through fast enough the feet get cold—and stay cold all night. A good Hot Water Bottle to put your feet against when you go to bed makes your feet warm and your sleep comfortable. It promotes more restful sleep because it draws blood from the head and brain.

RECEPTION TO NEW TEACHERS BY P. T. A.—

There was a very enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon at the Tenth street school building when the Parent Teachers' Association held their first meeting of the school year. Over fifty were present, and a very delightful program was given. As the program was rather long, and the meeting was a welcoming reception for the several new teachers on the grammar school faculty, business was suspended, and only a few minutes devoted to the one important subject of re-organization. It was decided to re-organize, but all details were left to the next meeting.

The program included greetings from Mrs. Edith Troeller, district superintendent, to the parents, and what their co-operation means to the school. Mrs. F. H. Manker, clerk of the school board, extended greetings in the name of the Trustees. Mrs. E. P. Fuller, community nurse, spoke for the Welfare League, a helping hand to the P. T. A., might mean much. A recitation by Mrs. Fred McMullen was greatly enjoyed, and the Rev. R. C. Stone followed with a splendid speech on "Relationship of the School to the Church." Mrs. R. C. Norton greeted everyone as a representative of the Upland Woman's Club. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Yahres charmed with their vocal duet, Mrs. Yahres responding very graciously with a solo to the enthusiastic applause.

It had been decided at a last year's meeting that the P. T. A., would give a reward to the room having the largest number of parents present, at this meeting, and on roll call of the teachers it was found that the second grade under Miss Clara Williams were the winners. So some day next week the children in that room will receive a treat of ice cream and cake from a committee of the P. T. A.

Following the delightful program a social hour was very much enjoyed during which the hospitality committee, Mrs. A. J. Handley, Mrs. E. O. Bowden, and Mrs. A. M. Wisely served refreshments. The teachers who are new this year on the Upland Grammar school faculty are Miss Irene Ferguson, kindergarten; Mrs. Dorothy Vashbinder, first and second grades; Miss Sullivan, first grade; Miss Hazel Smith, third and fourth grades; Miss Eleanor Schaap, fourth; Miss West, fifth grade; Miss Wieman, fifth; and Miss Harris who teaches the first and second grades at the Sierra Vista school.

MERRY WIVES LUNCH AT SYCAMORES—

The season opened for the Merry Wives Embroidery Club with a lunch at the Sycamores today. A very delightful afternoon followed with chatter and some fancy work. Those who were able to attend were Mrs. William L. Brown, Mrs. G. Aaron Brest, Mrs. Paul Cushing, Mrs. W. B. Duncan, Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Mrs. C. C. Eymann, Mrs. George Gregg, Mrs. Thos. Harris, Mrs. Perry O. Long, Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mrs. N. G. Pehl, Mrs. Grace Paulin, Mrs. Chas. M. Sikes, and Mrs. Frederick Wing of Glendale.

EAST SIDE CIRCLE ENTERTAINED—

Mrs. Alice Erickson very delightfully entertained the members of the East Side Circle on Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Ninth street. The afternoon was spent in needlework, and a social hour enjoyed during which the hostess served refreshments. Those present were Mrs. W. A. Getty, Mrs. Carl Olson, Mrs. Hy-mel, Mrs. Fred Wilding, Jr., Mrs. H. L. Nafius, Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. Stull, and Mrs. Geo. Irvine.

CARD PARTY BY MRS. GLENN ATWOOD—

Members of the evening bridge club, and several guests were very delightfully entertained on Tuesday night by Mrs. Glenn M. Atwood at her home on Eighth avenue. Tables were placed for bridge, and at the close of the evening's play honors fell to Mrs. H. C. Moore, Mrs. W. B. Duncan, and Mrs. Ernest C. Mehl.

Following the game a delicious supper was served. The list of guests and members present included Mrs. M. D. Shannon, Mrs. Harleigh Brown, Mrs. Floyd Atwood, Mrs. Fred Horsley, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Paul Bodenhamer, Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. Reid B. Bordwell, Mrs. J. L. Grahame, Mrs. Sam Rowe, Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Wallace, Mrs. Mehl, and Miss Duncan.

SURPRISE EVENING FOR E. P. FULLER—

Generally surprise parties begin with the arrival of the unexpected guests but E. P. Fuller received one or two extras last Wednesday evening before the real party began.

In the first place Mrs. Fuller said she was too tired to go to Chaffey that evening for her night class in bookkeeping, and as she is most enthusiastic over the work, her husband was surprised to hear her say she didn't want to go. Then came a call to a patient on Euclid avenue, and the City nurse started out returning home about seven with the remark that she wasn't hungry, and did her husband want a regular meal? This was the biggest surprise of all. No supper? Well! well! Before Mr. Fuller had quite decided what to say, there came the toot of motor horns outside the house, and several friends from San Bernardino arrived, but by this time Mr. Fuller was accustomed to the unexpected happening, and was able to greet his friends with calmness. Realizing that this was a surprise party, that his wife was in the secret, and that death by starvation was not to be his lot that night, Mr. Fuller proceeded to enjoy his friends company, and things to eat that came from well filled baskets, and Mrs. Fuller's pantry later in the evening. Mid-night came before the pleasant affair broke up and it will be hard to "surprise" E. P. Fuller again.

The guests were Judge and Mrs. Frank Daley, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Fuller, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Fuller of San Bernardino and Mrs. S. C. Henderson of Ontario.

UPLAND WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS—

The first meeting of the year of the Upland Woman's Club was most auspicious. It was held in the Club Center at 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon with about 35 present. The club this year meets the second and fourth Tuesdays at the same hour, 2:30. While several evening meetings are to be held, they will be purely social, and a regular business meeting will be held the same afternoon. The program for the year is to be quite varied. Some meetings will be in charge of the Study Section and the subject will be Italy. Current events are to have a particular place at each meeting.

Tuesday's meeting was presided over by Mrs. V. H. Wilson in the absence of the president, Mrs. Earle Hawthorne, who is in the north on a ten day trip with her husband. W. W. Mather gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Current Events." The report of the dinner given by the club for the Lemon Growers' Association at Chaffey was turned in, the club receiving a nice addition to the treasury. The annual flower show was talked of but as interest seemed waning in the subject, the flower show will probably not be given this year. Some other affair will likely take its place. A tentative plan for a community house was presented by the chairman of the club house building committee.

The Rainbow Trio, an entertainment to be brought here the 26th of October, at the school auditorium, was also called to the attention of the club members. This entertainment is to help out the club house fund.

The club room was decorated in baskets of golden rod, cosmos and dahlias. Following the program a refreshing drink and wafers were served by a committee composed of Mesdames Chas. Allen, W. H. Andrews and Mrs. J. J. Atwood assisted by Mrs. Nafius.

REGULAR MEETING OF EDITH CAVELL CHAPTER—

Following the summer vacation the members of the Edith Cavell Chapter D. B. E., have again taken up their regular meetings, and yesterday gathered at the home of Mrs. John E. Charlie Miller, motion picture cowboy, was again in court yesterday, when officers were notified he was walking about near his father's property near Highland with a big gun. Miller is sick and with the consent of his parents came home. About six weeks ago Miller shot up his brother's home and that of a neighbor, and was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Samson and Sarah Traylor, with their two children, Josiah and Betsy, travel by wagon from their home in Vergennes, Vt., to the West, the land of plenty. Their destination is the Country of the Sangamon, in Illinois.

CHAPTER II.—At Niagara Falls they meet a party of immigrants, among them a youth named John McNeil, who also decides to go to the Sangamon country. All of the party suffer from fever and ague. Sarah's ministrations save the life of a youth, Harry Needles, in the last stages of fever, and he accompanies the Traylor. They reach New Salem, Illinois, and are welcomed by young "Abe" Lincoln.

CHAPTER III.—Among the Traylor's first acquaintances are Lincoln's friends, Jack Kelso and his pretty daughter Bim, 16 years of age.

CHAPTER IV.—Samson decides to locate at New Salem, and begins building his house. Led by Jack Armstrong, rowdies attempt to break up the proceedings. Lincoln thrashes Armstrong. Young Harry Needles strikes Bop McNeil, of the Armstrong crowd, and McNeil threatens vengeance.

CHAPTER V.—A few days later Harry, alone, is attacked by McNeil and his gang, and would have been roughly used had not Bim driven into the scene with a shotgun. John McNeil, the Traylor's Niagara Falls acquaintance, is markedly attentive to Ann Rutledge. Lincoln is in love with Ann, but has never had enough courage to tell her so.

CHAPTER VI.—Traylor helps two slaves, who had run away from St. Louis, to escape. Eliphalet Biggs, owner of the slaves, following them, attempts to beat up Traylor and in a fight has his arm broken.

CHAPTER VII.—Waiting for his arm to heal, Biggs meets Bim Kelso, with whom Harry Needles has fallen in love. Biggs asks for Bim's hand, but her father refuses his consent. Biggs returns to St. Louis.

The shell sounded for dinner. Bim started for the road at a gallop, waving her hand. He unhitched his team and followed it slowly across the black furrows toward the barn.

He did not go to the spelling school. Abe came at seven and said that he and Harry would have to walk to Springfield that night and get their equipment and take the stage in the morning. Abe said if they started right away they could get to the Globe tavern by midnight. In the hurry and excitement Harry forgot the spelling school. To Bim it was a tragic thing. Before he went to bed that night he wrote a letter to her.

CHAPTER IX.

In Which Bim Kelso Makes History, While Abe and Harry and Other Good Citizens of New Salem Are Making an Effort to That End in the Indian War.

In the midst of springtime there came cheering news from the old home in Vermont—a letter to Sarah from her brother, which contained the welcome promise that he was coming to visit them and expected to be in Beardstown about the fourth of May. Samson drove across country to meet the steamer. He was at the landing when the Star of the North arrived. He saw every passenger that came ashore, and Eliphalet Biggs, leading his big bay mare, was one of them, but the expected visitor did not arrive. There would be no other steamer bringing passengers from the East for a number of days.

Samson went to a store and bought a new dress and sundry bits of finery for Sarah. He returned to New Salem with a heavy heart. Sarah stood in the open door as he drove up.

"Didn't come," he said mournfully. Without a word, Sarah followed him to the barn, with the tin lantern in her hand. He gave her a hug as he got down from the wagon. He was little given to like displays of emotion.

"Don't feel bad," he said. "I've given them up—I don't believe we shall ever see them again," said Sarah, as they were walking toward the door. "I think I know how the dead feel who are so soon forgotten."

"You can't blame 'em," said Samson. "They've probably heard about the Injun scare and would expect to be massacred if they came."

Indeed the scare, now abating, had spread through the border settlements and kept the people awake at night. Samson and other men, left in New Salem, had met to consider plans for a stockade.

"And then there's the fever an' ague," Samson added. "Sometimes I feel sorry I told 'em about it, because they'll think it worse than it is. But we've got to tell the truth if it kills us."

"Yes; we've got to tell the truth," Samson rejoined. "There'll be a railroad coming through here one of these days and then we can all get back and forth easy. If it comes it's going to make us rich. Abe says he expects it within three or four years."

Sarah had a hot supper ready for him. As he stood warming himself by the fire she put her arms around him and gave him a little hug. "You poor tired man!" she said. "How patient and how good you are!"

There was a kind of apology for this moment of weakness in her look and manner. Her face seemed to say: "It's silly but I can't help it."

"I've been happy all the time, for I know you was waiting for me," Samson remarked. "I feel richer every time I think of you and the children. Say, look here!"

He untied the bundle and put the dress and finery in her lap. "Well, I want to know," she exclaimed, as she held it up to the candlelight. "That must have cost a pretty penny!"

"I don't care what it cost—it ain't half good enough—not half," said in small engagements with the enemy. It was a band of rough-looking fellows in the costume of the frontier farm and workshop—ragged, dirty and unshorn. The company was disbanding late last night at Whitesville, Wisconsin, where, that night, the horses of Harry and Abe were stolen. From that point they started on their long homeward tramp with a wounded sense of decency and justice. They felt that the Indians had been wronged, that the greed of land grabbers had brutally violated their rights. This feeling had been deepened by the massacre of the red women and children at Bad Axe.

A number of mounted men went with them and gave them a ride now and then. Some of the travelers had little to eat on the journey. Both Abe and Harry suffered from hunger and sore feet before they reached Peoria, where they bought a canoe and in the morning of a bright day started down the Illinois river.

They had a long day of comfort in its current with a good store of bread and butter and cold meat and pie. The prospect of being fifty miles nearer home before nightfall lightened their hearts and they laughed freely while Abe told of his adventures in the campaign. To him it was all a wild comedy with tragic scenes dragged into it, and woefully out of place. Indeed he thought it no more like war than a pig sticking and that was the kind of thing he hated.

Harry had not heard from home since he left it. Abe had had a letter from Rutledge which gave him the news of Bim's elopement. The letter said:

"I was over to Beardstown the day Kelso and McNeil got off the steamer. I brought them home with me. Kelso was bigger than his trouble. Said that the ways of youth were a part of the great plan. 'Thorns! Thorns!' he said. 'They are the teachers of wisdom and who am I that I should think myself or my daughter too good for the like since it is written that Jesus Christ did not complain of them?'"

"Have you heard from home?" Abe asked as they paddled on.

"Not a word," said Harry. "You're not expecting to meet Bim Kelso?"

"That's the best part of getting home for me," said Harry, turning with a smile.

"Let her drift for a minute," said Abe. "I've got a letter from James Rutledge that I want to read to you. There's a big lesson in it for both of us—something to remember as long as we live."

Abe read the letter. Harry sat motionless. Slowly his head bent forward until his chin touched his breast.

Abe said with a tender note in his voice as he folded the letter: "This man is well along in life. He hasn't youth to help him as you have. See how he takes it and she's the only child he has. There are millions of pretty girls in the world for you to choose from."

"I know it, but there's only one Bim Kelso in the world," Harry answered mournfully. "She was the one I loved."

"Yes, but you'll find another. It looks serious, but it isn't—you're so young. Hold up your head and keep going. You'll be happy again soon."

"Maybe, but I don't see how," said the boy.

"There are lots of things you can't see from where you are at this present moment. There are a good many miles ahead of you, I reckon, and one thing you'll see plainly, by and by—that it's all for the best. I've suffered a lot myself but I can see now it has been a help to me. There isn't an hour of it I'd be willing to give up."

They paddled along in silence for a time.

"It was my fault," said Harry presently. "I never could say the half I wanted to when she was with me. My tongue is too slow. She gave me a chance and I wasn't man enough to take it. That's all I've got to say on that subject."

Some time afterward in a letter to his father the boy wrote:

"I often think of that ride down the river and the way he talked to me. It was so gentle. He was a big, powerful giant of a man who weighed over two hundred pounds, all of it bone and muscle. But under his great strength was a woman's gentleness; under the dirty, ragged clothes and the rough, brown skin grimy with dust and perspiration, was one of the cleanest souls that ever came to this world. I don't mean that he was like a minister. He could tell a story with a pretty rough talk in it, but always for a purpose. He hated dirt on the hands or on the tongue. He oiled flowers like a woman. He loved to look at the stars at night and the colors of the sunset and the morning dew on the meadows. I never saw a man so much in love with fun and beauty."

SEEING ONTARIO Through Her Events

That Ontario with its three monster canneries, several dry yard and dehydrating plants prepared more deciduous fruit for market during the season just closed than any other city in the United States was indicated today by figures just made public by heads of some of the larger plants. Statistics show that approximately 25,000 tons of fruit, chiefly apricots and peaches, were marketed by growers of the Ontario district, who received more than $500,000 for their product. Between 2000 and 3000 men and women were given employment in the fruit industry in Ontario during the summer and pay rolls totaled more than $250,000. With approximately 10,000 tons of fruit handled, the Ontario plant of the California Growers' Association, which is the largest cannery in the state, claims the canning record for California this season.

Figures given out by C. M. Sheets, superintendent of the Growers' canneries, which is a co-operative institution, show that 290,000 cases or nearly 7,000,000 quarts of peaches and apricots were packed by that plant during the season. The number of employees at the plant ran between 600 and 1000 and the pay roll at the season's height was $50,000 a month. The Golden State Cannery of which Paul H. Parrish is manager, handled approximately 5000 tons of deciduous fruit, chiefly apricots and peaches, and the plant of the United Canneries handled a similar amount. Local drying yards and dehydrating plants handled approximately 5000 tons more. This season's total output considerably exceeded that of last year and shipment of the canned goods to eastern markets is reported more brisk than in several years. Destruction in other less favored sections of considerable fruit by frost, which failed to touch the local crops, is said to be largely responsible for the big demand for the Ontario product.

With three truck drivers scheduled to appear before Judge George R. Holbrook at the Ontario city hall, October 20, charged with driving overloaded trucks on the county highways, what is said to be the first legal test locally of the county ordinance adopted August 15, is being looked forward to with more than ordinary interest. County authorities recently provided local traffic officers with apparatus for weighing loaded trucks. With the device, it is possible to jack up one end of a truck and compute the weight of a load. The apparatus cost the county $560. Those scheduled to face the judge on charges of violating the county overweight ordinance include H. McNeilly and H. A. Bolton of Los Angeles and Ray Palmer of Pomona. McNeilly was driving with a load of 340 sacks of cement, said to weigh 46,700 pounds, or 10,700 pounds in excess of the weight allowed by law. He was arrested on West A street by Motor Officer Frank J. Freeman. Bolton is said to have been carrying a load of canned fruit weighing 43,800 pounds and was arrested by Motor Officers R. R. Craigmiles and M. J. Rushen. Palmer is charged with carrying a load of 320 sacks of cement weighing 43,300 pounds and was arrested by Officer Craigmiles. That Judge Holbrook is to have a busy day October 20, is indicated by the fact that 14 alleged speeders, taken while doing between 30 and 46 miles an hour over the intersection of A street and Central avenue, are scheduled to appear on that date.

That Oswald ("Babe") Camarillo, alleged seion of the well-known Ventura family of that name, who was murdered Sunday morning following a dance at Cuernongra, came to his death from a bullet wound in the heart inflicted by Juan Duron, was the decision of the coroner's jury following the inquest at Draper's mortuary here, before Judge J. B. Hanna. The fatal bullet was offered in evidence after it had been removed from the body by Dr. Walter D. Lenker, autopsy surgeon. Deputy District Attorney C. Hiert was present to question the witnesses. Frank Treja, a friend of Camarillo, who was also attacked and to whose rescue the latter is reported to have hastened when he was murdered, is still in the hospital suffering from his wounds and Duron, the alleged murderer, is still at large. The body of Camarillo, who is survived by a widow and three children, was taken to his home in Monrovia for interment.

Mrs. Geoffrey J. Fleming was Tuesday afternoon chosen president of the Current Events Club to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of Mrs. H. W. Fredericksen. To fill vacancies left by resignations at the time of Mrs. Fredericksen's death, Mrs. William Laidlaw and Mrs. A. T. Hamilton were elected first and second vice-presidents, respectively. In a feeling little speech, Mrs. Thomas C. Hardy paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Fredericksen and resolutions of respect, as presented by the resolutions committee, were adopted. An interesting feature of the afternoon was a brief talk by Assemblyman Isaac Jones on legislative matters.

Loss of a handsome diamond ring valued at more than $1000 by Mrs. Thomas Donley of Hotel Casa Blanca has been reported to the police. Mrs. Donley is not certain, it is said, whether the ring was stolen or lost, but suspicion is said to point to an employee of the hotel, who recently left hurriedly after a brief stay at the hostelry. One theory is that the owner laid the bauble on her dresser while dressing for dinner and left it there, but it is also believed possible that it slipped from her fingers while attending a local theatre later in the evening. A liberal reward has been offered for its recovery. The ring is said to be of platinum and set with a score or more of diamonds.

With 22 windows and transoms at the South Euclid avenue school shattered by small rocks believed to have been propelled by "nigger shooters" some time during the night, members of the Ontario police force were busy today in an effort to locate the perpetrators of the job. The damage done is estimated close to $100.

Fire of unknown origin Tuesday afternoon destroyed two shacks occupied by Mexican families at Campus avenue and Francis street. Fire truck, No. 1, driven by Lea Westfall, failed to reach the scene of the fire, breaking an oil pipe connection when the driver attempted to put it over a bad railroad crossing at Belmont street. Truck No. 2 reached the fire, but was powerless to check the flames. The chief excitement at the fire was occasioned by a 16-year-old Mexican girl getting in line of the fire hose and receiving a drenching.

"SMALL TALK" IS IMPORTANT

Well Worth Cultivating by Those to Whom Its Possession Has Been Denied.

The man who is a failure at small talk never quite hears what the girl he is talking to has to say. He is trying to think what he is going to say next, so of course he cannot fail to misunderstand what the girl he is talking to says. He is heedless, abstracted, worried and has a way of listening to the conversation of others rather than to those at hand.

The girl whom men regard as a good talker is always ready with a laugh, and the girl who laughs well is always popular. One can excuse the girl who giggles if she giggles in a way that makes others merry and seems to tell those with whom she talks that they are entertaining her immensely, that their stories are deliciously funny—though they may be very stupid—and that on the whole she is enjoying herself and her companions enormously.

"How should a man start the conversation at a dance?" is a frequent query. There are 1,000 ways and almost any way is a good way providing it is prompt and whole minutes of agonizing silence do not slip before anything is said. Little personal remarks that are not impertinent are sure to win a girl's attention.

"I was impatient for this dance," says the popular man to the girl dressed in old rose, whom he has met for the first time that night, "because I always find that I get along famously with girls that wear pink. I can tell a lot about a girl by the colors she likes to wear."

The man who never seems to know what to say to a woman would say something like this: "I knew I had this dance with a girl in pink, but there are so many girls in pink here, and they all look alike to me so I was afraid I would ask the wrong girl."

Through Her Events

After discovering that the course of the love never did run smoothly and incidentally that a hunting license was of no material use at a wedding, Siomn Hernandez and Anastacia Urbina, both of Upland, were finally happily married yesterday afternoon at the Ontario city hall by Judge George R. Holbrook.

Hernandez, accompanied by Leonardo Espinoza, appeared Wednesday at the city hall in Ontario and announced to attaches of the place that he wanted a hunting license. He was directed to Lloyd Bumstead, 109 East B street, who has charge of issuing such licenses, but he was back in a short time to say that he had made a slight mistake, that the "hunt" was over and that it was a marriage license he wanted.

Hernandez was told that he must bring his bride-elect with him before City Clerk, D. B. Wynne could accommodate him. When he came back yesterday, he was accompanied not only by his intended, but by members of her family, numbering three women, two men and six children, as well.

After the proper license had been secured from Clerk Wynne, Judge Holbrook tied the nuptial knot to the satisfaction of all present.

With nearly 1500 enrolled in the grammar schools of the city and with the six buildings used by the elementary grades crowded to overflowing, members of the city board of education were busy today with the preparation of preliminary plans for a bond election to finance the purchase of a site and the erection of a new 12-room building. The action followed the meeting of a body of representative citizens at the office of J. S. Armstrong, president of the board, when actual conditions were made public for the first time. C. W. Randall, city superintendent of schools, reported an enrollment in the grammar schools of 1482, an increase of 132 since the opening day, and declared that each succeeding day brought increases. Tentative plans call for the erection in a central location of a commodious building to be used as an intermediate or junior high school, which would result in the removal of pupils of the seventh and eighth grades from the present buildings and give more room for those of the lower grades. Several sites for the proposed new building are already under consideration, a five acre tract on West J street being particularly favored.

At least one new factory giving employment at once to upwards of 75 men and women is virtually assured to Ontario and three other concerns are giving serious consideration to plans for the establishment of plants of various magnitude here, it was announced yesterday following a special meeting of the directors of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce to look into the proposition.

T. S. N. Maloof, one of the best known apron manufacturers on the coast, who already operates a factory in Los Angeles, where 70 are given regular employment, has virtually announced his intention of establishing a factory in Ontario at a very early date. With a guarantee of 8 per cent on the investment and a strong probability of 15 to 20 per cent, Mr. Maloof plans to organize a company with a capitalization of $100,000 and sell $49,000 worth of stock to local investors. And the proposition is looked on with such favor that a considerable portion of this amount has already been pledged by Ontario business men, it is said. Other propositions were laid before the directors of the Chamber by F. W. Sharps and H. B. Pearson, seeking a location for a factory to manufacture a high-grade coffee substitute; C. O. McNulty, planning to manufacture a patented piston ring for motor cars; and A. R. Barnett, promoting a patented knife blade. All promoters were asked to present their proposition in writing, when they will be given the careful consideration of manufacturing committee.

Members of the Ontario Business Men's Association at their regular monthly meeting, which took the form of a luncheon at Hotel Casa Blanca yesterday afternoon, authorized the appointment of a committee to go into plans for an Ontario merchants and manufacturers' exhibition to be held in the early spring. Plans for the exposition were outlined tentatively at the luncheon and seemed to meet with general favor. The committee will be named by R. F. Price, president of the Business Men's Association, at an early date.

Believed to have been the work of a gang of professional fruit thieves, 32 boxes of fine grapes, picked and ready for market, were stolen early yesterday from a ranch at Fourth street and Hoffman avenue owned by F. W. Whitney, 328 West H Street. Tracks left by the thieves indicate that they came from the west and after loading up proceeded east as far as Archibald

M. A. Bagley, county probation officer reports a busy week so far and does not yet see any prospects of a vacation this year. Five of the boys that were concerned in stealing automobiles in Upland were returned to their parents with the admonition of the court. The little boy who stole a Ford truck in Redlands was put on probation in order that he might get work for his support.

The case of the two six-foot boys from Tennessee who broke into the San Bernardino Union Co-Operative store was postponed for one week and the boys were remanded to the County Jail. These boys were both seventeen years old. Bagley still thinks that the parents should keep a close watch on their boys and the companionship, as no one knows whose boys will come next.

HARVEYS LOCATE IN DENVER FOR WINTER

Readers of The News, who have followed Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Harvey in their travels through the interesting letters received from Dr. Harvey, will be further interested to know that they have reached a stopping place for a short time, and are nicely settled in Denver, at 1136 Ogden street, for the winter. They are not tired of motoring thru the country, but having a boy of school age made the change in their mode of living necessary, and Roy will be a student this winter in the Eighth grade Junior High School of Denver, where there are twelve hundred pupils. This is the first time the Harveys have slept under a roof since they left Upland, and they say it will take some time to get used to the shut-in feeling. Also Roy had his first snow fight after they arrived in Denver, where snow fell in sufficient quantities to allow him to enjoy the pastime of snowballing, and of making snow men.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harvey, of Alta Loma, left a short time ago for a motor trip of several months, during which time they will visit their brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey, in Denver, and drive through some of the Middle West states. Their objective point is Florida, where they plan to spend most of the winter.

avenue, where the tracks were lost. In their haste to get away they lost four boxes of the grapes from the truck. Mr. Whitney estimates his loss at $50.

It never rains, but it pours. With application recently made for a fourth bank in Ontario, indications are that a fifth is soon to be established here. O. P. Hoegstedt, representing a Los Angeles banking concern, which plans to open a branch here, was yesterday conferring with F. E. Allford, relative to securing quarters in his proposed new building at Euclid avenue and C street promising financial aid in its construction, if given a promise of the corner for the bank.

BAGLEY WOULD PROTECT NAMES

M. A. Bagley, the County Probation Officer, has become through his long experience as an officer dealing with children, a keen student of human nature. He is also very much of a philosopher. He has studied psychology, the relation of heredity to crime in the younger generation, and still withal he is a very kindly man and does all within his power to protect the wards that are placed in his care. He believes in publicity, but not of the kind that some people do. For instance: he is firm in his belief that the names of juveniles who are brought before the courts should be protected and not spread abroad for the world to read. It is the duty of society to save the boys and girls and prevent any stigma attaching to their name after they had gone through a course of training that is intended to correct the wrong idea they had conceived regarding their conduct and duties to society. It is Mr. Bagley's idea that when they step out into the world there should be no wagging tongues or pointing fingers to embitter them in their attitude towards society. Give them a fair chance to start out with a clean slate and a full chance to go straight. This is the reason why Mr. Bagley is opposed to giving the names of those under his care. He is willing to tell of the troubles that the boys and girls get into as a warning to others and also he wants the parents to know what juvenile courts and officers have to contend with in order that they will ponder and better look after their own and assist the officers are preventing juvenile delinquency.

It is necessary, says Mr. Bagley, that some parents and children be sacrificed by having their names in the public print as inmates of public correctional institutions that other parents may know and realize that their boy may be next.

Here is a bit of Bagley's philosophy: "As the saloon was the destroyer of itself by becoming so rotten that it could not stand and horse racing became primarily gambling and as baseball is gradually becoming so—so may civilization fall if it does not take heed and take note of passing events and correct the glaring faults that are presented to it for solution. Money, of itself, is not the root of all evil, as is often said; instead, it is the necessity of the money, if we are to live, that is really the root of all evil."

Safety First.

"Howdy, Gap!" saluted an acquaintance, halting his team in the big road. "Hop in and go to Tumlinville with me. I hear tell that the women of the Civility league, or whatever they call it, have notified that they are going to begin cleaning up the town today. Mought as well see what comes off." "Much obliged, Zeke, but I reckon not," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Some fellers from Possum Flat rid in one day when I was there a couple of weeks ago and started to clean up the town. I'm sorter getting along in years and ain't as soopie as I once was, and in the course of the hour I got my back scratched and my nose skinned right sharply. If the women start any trouble the Lord only knows what would happen to me. Nope—if I was to go any place today I'd go to Mount Pisgah, whur nuth'n never comes off."—Kansas City Star.

TEN SAFETY RULES FOR THE MOTORIST

Ten new safety suggestions for motorists have been issued by the safety bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

These follow the first ten issued at the beginning of the Safety campaign a short time ago by the Club. Read these carefully, Mr. Motorist, and see if you are following all of them.

1. On approaching a grade crossing shift into second gear, this will eliminate stalling the car on the crossing.
2. When you overtake and pass a car do not cut in again until you are 50 feet ahead of the car you have passed.
3. Do not pass a vehicle at a highway or street intersection.
4. Carry extra light globes in your tool box just as you would extra tubes or tools.
5. Put on your skid chains at the first sign of wet weather.
6. In wet weather apply your brake with the clutch still in when you start to stop.
7. Remember that a chain on one wheel only, is worse than none at all.
8. When negotiating a corner or curve, don't jam your throttle on too soon. Bad skids occur in this way.
9. Approach all crossings cautiously, the worst accidents occur at crossings.
10. Do not straddle car tracks when driving on slippery streets. Your wheels are liable to jump.

BRO. PETER BLAMED FOR GIRL'S DEATH

Brother Peter, popular as a faith healer in some parts of Cucamonga and San Bernardino, is to be a subject of investigation from all indications, following the death of Eloise Cervantes, 747 L street, San Bernardino, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Ivan Finkleberg was called to the 1 street residence Tuesday morning and found the child suffering from the disease. He prescribed medicine for the proper treatment, went away, and, returning at 11 a. m., found "Brother Peter" at the house, and, supposedly using his "faith cure" on the Mexican child. The girl's parents declared in favor of the "healer" and Dr. Finkleberg, although he expressed a desire to treat the suffering child, was practically refused permission to go to the bedside, it was reported.

The girl died yesterday afternoon and Dr. Finkleberg was called to sign the death certificate, which he refused to do. Instead, he notified Coroner J. B. Hanna of the incidents surrounding the case, and Mr. Hanna requested an autopsy, which will be performed this morning by Dr. W. D. Lenker, of the General Hospital.

Possible action on the part of the district attorney's office in holding "Brother Peter" on a charge of manslaughter as the result of the child's death will await the verdict at the autopsy this morning. Should it be shown that the "healers" treatment caused the death of the girl he will possibly be arrested on the charge.

"Brother Isaiah," a Los Angeles "faith healer," is in court in that city now on a manslaughter charge, following the death of a woman whom the "healer" is alleged to have killed by his treatment.

DEVOTED TO BRITISH CROWN

People of the Island of Jersey Have for Centuries Been Proud of Their Loyalty.

There is no part of the king's dominions which has shown a more active devotion than the island of Jersey. The true Jerseyman still regards the king as the successor of the dukes of Normandy. Jersey elected to remain under the English crown in the reign of John, when the rest of Normandy reverted to France.

It supported the Royalist cause during the Civil war and harbored Charles II when he was in exile; it banished Victor Hugo because of some slighting remarks of his about Queen Victoria, and during the late war it passed its own military service act, for which there was very little need.

Moreover, not once nor twice in this rough island story has armed invasion by the French been successfully resisted. The last occasion was in 1781, when the Jerseymen, although surprised and outnumbered and deserted by their own governor, who was preparing to capitulate, defeated the enemy in a most singular battle, fought in the royal square of St. Helier.—London Mail.

I. C. C. INSPECTORS TO HELP GET CARS

As a result of the telegraphic appeal of the Railroad Commission to the Interstate Commerce Commission for assistance in securing refrigerator cars for California grape shippers, T. J. Hicks an inspector for the I. C. C. has reached San Francisco and is working in conjunction with the Service Department of the state body in efforts to relieve the shortage. After being supplied with data already gathered by the Commission, Mr. Hicks sent an urgent wire to the Interstate Commerce Commission pointing out the necessity of additional cars for this coast.

The investigation made by the inspectors of the California Commission shows that an unprecedented demand was made by the grape interests this year for refrigerator cars, as this year marks the beginning of an effort to move the bulk of the grape crop under refrigeration. This is attributed to the high price prevailing for grapes suitable for wine-making purposes. A rising market, coupled with threat of rain added to the anxiety of the producers.

Present indications are that unless unfavorable weather conditions should intervene, the grape crop will be moved out without loss.

That the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railroads and car companies are doing their utmost in co-operation with the Railroad Commission to meet the situation was the declaration today of Commissioner H. Stanley Benedict. The problem was rendered particularly difficult at this time, he added, by similar demands from other parts of the country, particularly from the Idaho apple growers.

HOLLOW HILL MILK WINS COMPLIMENT

What amounts to almost a world's record for pure milk has just been made by George de Vries, owner of the Hollow Hill Farm in conjunction with the Brookside dairy, in San Timoteo Canyon. De Vries supplies the Medicine Man with milk for his fountain and those who desire it for home use. Some time ago he took over the herd brought to Hollow Hill by George W. Wilder, although his plan is ultimately to consolidate the dairies at the Brookside as soon as the buildings there can be completed along sanitary lines that made Hollow Hill famous.

For some days Dr. John S. Hay, state market milk specialist, has been in this part of Southern California inspecting dairies and particularly seeking to impress municipal authorities in San Bernardino and Riverside, with the advantages of having milk inspected and tested as the state law makes possible, although the system has not been adopted in either of the cities. Redlands has had such inspection for years, under the direction of City Veterinarian Dr. William E. Phelps.

While in Redlands, Dr. Hay made surprise tests of all milk delivered there, the test averaging very high, according to the results announced, but the showing made by the certified milk delivered by Brookside and Hollow Hill dairies is unequaled by any record available.

As a matter of fact, absolutely no bacteria could be found in the milk, but a nominal showing of 200 per cubic centimeter was set down, although the test was practically negative. As a result, in a letter to Mr. De Vries, Dr. Phelps says:

"Your milk tested 200 bacteria per cubic centimeter. When you take into account that the state law requirement for certified milk is less than 10,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; for pasteurized milk 15,000 and for grade A raw, 200,000, you can understand what your test means. It means as nearly pure milk as it is possible to produce and market."

That is to say, the milk would be passed by inspectors if it showed "less than 10,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter," and in fact it showed less than 200. Dr. Phelps adds that he is assured the accomplishment has never been surpassed in the state of California, and also says that he knows it "has never been equaled in this country."
